1	anonymous	Positive attitudes moving forward.
2	anonymous	I rated the nonprofit 990 and tax help low as a need in this survey but because we have those services at our city, previously at non profits I feel they all need this support and need help with the business of working at a non profit.
3	anonymous	I'm very enthusiastic about the potential for SoCoCulture continuing into the future.
4	anonymous	I think SoCo culture can really be a hub for fostering partnerships/relationships beneficial for South King County orgs - between each other, and between other, better resourced organizations in King County (often Seattle-based organizations). Also helping to extend marketing reach - maybe more formal partnerships with places that already have broad public visibility (city calendars, etc.?).
5	anonymous	Continue SoCoCulture to serve our community and build relationships.
6	anonymous	Continue the partnership and collaboration
